

EVEN THE KING OF BEASTS ACKNOWLEDGES SUPREMACY OF A HUMAN MASTER
Jacob Glass, a trainer with the De Haven Shows, shows how kindness and humane treatment can overcome the savage instinct of the tawny monarch of the jungle.

AMERICA CALLS AND THIS FAMILY RESPONDS TO A MAN
Conscription and draft are flung to the winds by Ernest Mazer, of Jersey City, N. J., and his seven sons, all of whom are in the regular army or National Guard, except those too young. Three latter are Boy Scouts. Photo by International Film Service.

INCENDIARY GERMAN SHELL SETS FIRE TO FRENCH FIELD HOSPITAL
One of the dramatic incidents of the great war, in which the Teutons, returning the heavy bombardment of the French, sent their "fire" shells crashing into a village on the west front with the above effect. So sudden was the blaze that followed that only a few of the Red Cross ambulances could be saved. Photo by Underwood & Underwood.

A FAVORITE ON NEARBY LINKS
The record established by Edward Loos in the Whitmarsh tourney places him among the top-notchers in this section.

PHILADELPHIAN SINGS AT SEASHORE
Miss Kathryn McGinley, soloist at the opening of the Wildwood Casino Auditorium and a native of that part of New Jersey.

STUDENT OFFICERS LITERALLY BEGIN AT THE BOTTOM IN UNCLE SAM'S SERVICE
The photograph shows one of the daily scenes at the Fort Myer training school, where the future leaders of the army are actually doing the practical part of trench digging.

AN OPEN-AIR SHOWER BATH IS COOL AND REFRESHING, TO SAY NOTHING OF ITS DEMOCRATIC SIMPLICITY
Youngsters of Mifflin street, near Twenty-fourth, find it possible to enjoy the chief pleasure of a seashore trip with none of the expense or fatigue that usually attends such an excursion.
